VOLUME XXI—NO 81 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1920 TWO CENTS

CHANGED TELEPHONE RATES ARE EXPECTED TO CUT COSTS

May Be Announced Within Short Time by Public Service Commission

MAY RESTORE FORMER RATES

Orders from the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania permitting the Bell Telephone Company to change classifications and areas so that between $500,000 and $600,000 will be saved to over 100,000 telephone subscribers will be issued within the next two weeks, according to word issued from Harrisburg. These orders will be the result of terms drawn up by Charles K. Robsinon of Pittsburg, chief counsel for a multitude of complainants, and J. L. Swayze and R. V. Mayre, legal representatives of the company, and submitted to the Commission on Wednesday night. While the Commission reserves the right to reject any of the clauses in the protocol, it is believed it will follow its lines, but also so arrange matters that any community whose peculiar conditions are not covered by the agreement may be able to make complaint. Furthermore, no complainant is to be prejudiced in future actions and the relations between the Bell and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company may be made subject of representations the latter stipulation was made by Mr. Robinson after consultation with his colleagues.

In the new plan which it is intimated is to be put into force, Charleroi, it is said, will gain many of the things for which it contended in the way of former rates and the area of the free district. Under present arrangements Charleroi is confined to calls to Monessen and Belle Vernon. Prior to that time free calls could be made to Fayette City and Monongahela. Under the dispensation which it is said will be granted by the Public Service Commission the free area will extend from Donora to California, leaving out Monongahela, which was a free call under the old conditions. This concession together with the former rate, if this report proves true, will practically give Charleroi all that it contended for. In preparing the borough's contention D. M. McCloskey, borough solicitor, looked after the situation of the local community and was one of the first to file his papers of protest with the Commission at Harrisburg.

At the outset the task facing the Public Service Commission in examining the various protests was a huge one. In fact it would have consumed at least two years, and it was then that the Commission suggested that the protestants get together and organize and present their various cases as one. The Commission also suggested a compromise, and to that end both parties have been working. However, in order to strengthen their demand the solicitors representing the various protesting communities, after organizing, waited until the telephone company had secured reports of the first month's business under the new rates, when subpoenas were issued to show what the increase amounted to. It was ascertained that this increase amounted to $80.000 for the first month, or at the rate of almost one million dollars a year increase over the old rates. The company, in its application for the increase, had stated that the expected amount would be much smaller. Compromise figures will, however, greatly reduce the amount of returns the telephone company would have received had the new rates gone into effect and been allowed to remain at the higher figures without a protest.

MORE GREENE CO. WOMEN REGISTER THAN MEN

Greene county will have more women voters at the election in November than men, according to figures compiled on the recent registration of women. The figures show that 7074 women registered, approximately 200 more than the number of men enrolled. Waynesburg headed the list with 1,025.

FIENDISH CRIME IS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Gruesome indeed was the discovery Saturday evening last near New Salem, Fayette county, of a man as yet unidentified, who apparently had been dead for four or five days. Several rabbit dogs owned by local hunters of that community, as they were nosing about unearthed the remains. All indications pointed to the perpetration of a fiendish crime which may baffle county officials to unravel. Apparently the man had been killed and then his clothing saturated with oil and a match applied, for Coroner Baum in his investigation made on Sunday last discovered that all of the man's clothing had been burned from his body, with the exception of his shoes and the lower ends of his trousers. The coroner also found an oil can and handkerchief in which was tied a search light.

The crime appears to be similar in detail to the one which evidently caused the death of the Charleroi barber back of Coal Centre last spring.

Christena A. McCrory.

Christena A. McCrory, wife of Henry J. McCrory, died this Thursday morning at 2:30 o'clock, at her home in Twilight borough, aged 80 years. Mrs. McCrory was one of the oldest residents of this section of the county, having lived in Twilight and immediate vicinity all her life. She was a daughter of the late Solomon Frye. She is survived by her husband, one daugher, Mrs. L. C. Hughes of Twilight and two sons, Samuel McCrory of Braddock and Clyde McCrory of Sharon. Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, fast time interment in Howe cemetery.

Local Mine Owner Brings Suit for Heavy Damages

George W. Dawson, independent coal operator of Charleroi, has brought suit against the Pittsburg Coal Company to recover $40.000 damages for an alleged illegal trespass committed by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, which was absorbed by the Pittsburg Coal Company. It is alleged that this trespass was continued by the latter corporation to the [illegible] damage of the plaintiff.

The statement of claim sets forth that prior to February 13, 1917, the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company unlawfully constructed a railroad siding across certain lands of the plaintiff in East Pike Run township. It is averred that by reason of this siding the defendant company was enabled to operate its Crescent mine at unusual profits, but that it prevented the plaintiff from opening and operating his mine as a railroad mine, and compelled him to operate it as a river mine, at great loss, inconvenience and expense. The plaintiff also avers that by reason of this siding he was put to unusual cost and expense in the operation of his mine, and that the market value of his property was depreciated. It is alleged that the Pittsburg Coal Company from February 13, 1917 to July 31, 1918, occupied this siding.

MOVIE STAR TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE

A cablegram from Paris states that Olive Thomas, the American movie star, was recovering from a dose of poison, taken according to friends under the belief that it was a sleeping powder. It was stated that she was suffering from insomnia. Her husband, Jack Pickford, was with her at the hospital.

Olive Thomas, in private life Mrs. Jack Pickford, was a former Charleroi girl, having lived here a number of years ago. Her maiden name was Olive Duffy, and after moving to McKees Rocks with her parents was married to a man named Thomas, from whom she was later divorced. Working in a Pittsburg deparment store at $3 a week, her career as an actress began when an aunt from Boston, believing her niece had latent musical talent, took her to New York. She appeared for a time in Ziegfield's Follies and the "Midnight Frolic," and her career led from the legitimate to a prominent place in filmdom.

LOCKS AND BARS ARE EASY FOR THIS MAN

Eddie O'Brien of Oklahoma, will give a free exhibition at the Hotel Charleroi at 7 o'clock this evening. While suspended in the air by his feet he will release himself from a straight jacket, in full view of the people. At 8 o'clock he will be placed in the local lockup and promises to release himself without outside aid.

VALUABLE ANIMAL KILLED BY STREET CAR

A valuable bull bitch, owned by Harold Fellows, was killed by a street car on Fallowfield avenue in front of the Hotel Myford, about 11 o'clock this morning. The animal answered to the name of "Betty," and was a general favorite in the neighborhood. About a week ago the owner was offered $90 for the animal, which he refused.

CLAIMS DAMAGES FROM RAILWAY CO.

Mrs. Ellen Rennie of Belle Vernon has brought an action of trespass in the Westmoreland county courts against the W. M. & P. C. street railway company, asking damages in the sum of $5,000 for injuries alleged to have been received through the negligence of the company's employes on June 3, at the "White Barn" stop between Monessen and Belle Vernon, when she was a passenger on the defendant company's car.

The plaintiff avers in her statement that she paid her fare with the understanding that she was to be carried safely to her destination. At the point mentioned the car in which she was riding collided with another going in an opposite direction. She was thrown violently from her seat and was injured in her back, side and other parts of her body as to make her unfit for work. She suffered a nervous breakdown, she further avers, and is permanently injured.

LOCAL EXPOSITION HAS FINE DISPLAY

Charleroi's agricultural and fashion show opened this afternoon to one of the finest displays of the kind ever made in this section of the valley. Turner Hall is transformed with the various booths and the fine displays, not only of finely arranged booths by local merchants, but with a splendid array of fruits and vegetables which are being displayed by local growers. Two floors of the building are being utilized for the exhibit and every inch of space has been taken up by exhibitors to display their wares. The exhibition is well worth a visit from any and all the citizens of Charleroi, and they should not fail to avail themselves of the opportunity. A fine musical program will be given at each exhibition, beginning this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the High School orchestra will be reinforced by a number of the leading vocalists of the community.

JEWISH NEW YEAR OCCURS NEXT MONDAY

One of the most important festivals in the entire Jewish calendar, that of the New Year, will be celebrated in traditional manner by Jews all over the world next Monday. Like all the other Jewish holidays, the festival commences at sunset on the previous day. Orthodox Jews observe two days, whereas Reform Jews keep only one day.

The festival of the New Year is the first of a series of holidays lasting nearly a month. One of its principal features is the blowing of the Shofar, or ram's horn.

Apart from its joyful and festive nature, Rosh Hashannah is rich in moral import and significance. The fact that it is the beginning of the new year lends it special sacredness. It is the time of higher resolves, the turning point of the year. It is the day which brings home to the Jew with great force the lesson that the time is short and the work is great, and that as each year rolls quickly by the task must be accomplished within a shorter period.

The festival is a gentle reminder of the brevity of human existence, but it optimistically stresses the doctrine that man far from being a plaything in the hands of fate, can realize his life's work if he but take advantage of the swiftly fleeting moments.

MISS JENKINS WILL BE ONE OF SOLOISTS

Pupils Must Attend at Monessen, and Expenses Are Heavy

CAR FARE $5.60 EACH MONTH

Patrons of North Belle Vernon schools are not pleased over conditions in that borough, particularly with reference to high school facilities, and voiced their objections at an indignation meeting held on Tuesday evening last.

It appears that when a former board went out of office, realizing that school facilities would soon be taken up by grade pupils, abolished the high school. Last season the high school pupils attended the Monessen school, but at that time the street railway fare was lower than at the present time, and objections were not very strong. Since the opening of the term, however conditions have taken a sudden turn, and now the people over there are demanding some action on the part of the school directors in the way of high school facilities at home.

Under present conditions it is pointed out by school patrons that it costs them 28 cents per day car fare to send their children to the Monessen school, and in addition lunches must be packed every school day, which is an added expense. The street car fare alone amounts to about $5.60 a month, and with the added expense of lunch it amounts to quite a respectable figure. What the patrons over there want just now is, for the local board to stand some of the expense of transportation for the pupils to and from Monessen, but at the meeting held Tuesday evening no definite action was taken. As some seventy pupils from North Belle Vernon attend the high school at Monessen it will be seen that the traveling expense alone amounts to quite a large figure every month. School patrons feel they should not becalled upon to pay this extra expense, in view of the fact that they must pay school taxes in the borough and insist that immediate steps should be taken to prepare for a high school in their home town.

Some time ago it was suggested that the two boroughs of Belle Vernon and North Belle Vernon might go together and build a joint high school, but apparently this project has been abandoned. The local board is also face to face with the high cost of building, which would entail a very heavy expense on the borough to erect a suitable building, but this will likely have to be done some time. In the meantime the number of grade pupils are increasing from year to year, thus taxing present facilities, and making it imperative that within a few years that these must be increased.

Further meetings may be held in order to work out some plan that will be acceptable to all concerned.

PROVE IT, OR QUIT

The New York Sun says:—Governor James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, has charged that the Republican campaign managers have raised or are now attempting to raise a corruption fund of $15,000,000 with the purpose of [illegible] votes enough on November 2 to elect Harding and Coolidge.

For this specific accusation Governor Cox has made himself personally responsible. He cannot escape the responsibility. It is not only personal to himself but it is undivided. Nobody [illegible] to the babbling of Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who [illegible] with yarns about a Republican corruption fund of $30,000,000 or $32,000,000. Nobody [illegible] er for information [illegible] Governor Cox's campaign managers. One and all, these astute gentlemen plead ignorance concerning that which their chief is loudly proclaiming from the stump. They do say in some cases that they have confidence in Governor Cox's ability to "make good," but we get no further along in the matter until he does in fact "make good." That achievement by him is yet in the future.

Governor Cox tells his audiences from the stump that he intends to keep on until November 2 repeating his yet unproven charge about the $15,000,000 corruption fund and the sinister influence behind it.

Meanwhile the candidate is giving the country a pretty fair idea of his intellectual dimension and moral true inwardness. Many citizens who had previously in their minds no definite pictnure of his mind, are asking why Governor Cox, to use the colloquialism, does not either "put up or shut up." And it is becoming apparent that if he remains insensible to the ordinary impulse of an honorable man of sincerity and conscience to seek the witness stand and under oath at least attempt to justify his accusations, the committee must soon resort to the compulsory process by messenger armed with subpoena.

CONFIDENCE IN THE PRESS

The press conference of the British empire recently held in Ottawa discussed political problems, but concerned itself chiefly with the concerns of the press, including the supply of newspaper print paper and cable communications within the empire. The discussion of the latter subject brought out strong reaffirmations of the principle of a free press, safe against official control and unhindered by censorship of any kind. The demand for such freedom was so pronounced that when a delegate offered an amendment recognizing the right of goverment control of communication during war it was voted down, an Australian delegate contending that the plea of "military exigency" during the World War had been greatly abused.

References were made by Canadian and Australian delegates to "a growing distrust of the press among the industrial classes" and a Melbourne journalists said itwas the duty of editors to combat the claim that newspapers are becoming 'the rich man's plaything." The representative of the Vancouver World said the distrust of the press was a part of the modern unrest. "In connection with this remark," comments the Springfield, Mass., Republican, "it is interesting to observe that in this country propagandists of radical ideas are steadily and zealously endeavoring to undermine confidence in the newspapers. That they find it necessary, from their point of view, to cultivate this distrust, is proof that it is not a spontaneous expression of popular feeling and that it has not yet got sufficietly far to be a promoter of unrest."

It ought to be needless to add that the best and the only way to preserve confidence in the press is to keep the press worthy of that confidence, and that it is the duty as well as to the interest of responsible representatives of the press, collectively and individually to strive to do so in every possible way.

NO EVIDENCE

Edmond H. Moore, Cox's personal representative before the Senate committee investigating political expenditures of money, with particular reference to the so-called Republican "slush fund," admitted before the committee on Tuesday that Governor Cox had no evidence in support of his charges outside of what Moore brought with him to Chicago. And this testimony concerned principally the names of men whom the witness still "believed" could give testimony that would prove the charges being made by the Democratic candidate for President.

In other words, Mr. Cox has not a particle of evidence to back up the charges he has been making from the stump, but believes that if the Senate committee will follow the alleged "leads" which he is furnishing it will get some information. Isn't that a fine situation. What the Senate committee wants is facts, and they haven't got them. The "slush" fund exists only in his [illegible]

THAT TWO AND A HALF BILLIONS.

[illegible] billions of the amounts they have [illegible] expenditures a [illegible] of a billion and a half [illegible] of two billions and a half. The fact is that in the first session of the present Congress there was a saving of approximately a billion dollars and in the second session a saving of a billion and a half, making a total saving of two and a half billions for the entire Congress. These figures are given in round numbers the exact amount being less than two and a half billions. The reductions in appropriations were made over the protest of the Democratic executives, some of whom have since gone out over the country denouncing the Republican Congress for cutting the appropriations, although candidate Cox declares that no reductions were made.

"What do you consider Palestine's greatest need?" Miss Nathan, a Red Cross worker, was asked by a prominent Zionist, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington, D. C. Both were returning from the Holy Land, where their duties had taken them.

"Forests," was Miss Nathan's instant reply.

"What, before the much-needed industries are brought in?" exclaimed the Zionist incredulously. "Don't you think industrial rehabilitation should come before reforestation?"

"Doesn't the country's industrial life depend paramountly upon reforestation?" countered the Red Cross woman. "Palestine, without forests, means Palestine ever the prey of floods and famine; doomed to unarable lands and to poverty. Even the industries must be assured fuel and power, and without means to produce these they must languish."

Uncovered Ancient Grave.

While excavations were being made on a small conical-shaped hill near Dolphinton station, England, in preparation for the foundation for a monument, the workmen came upon an irregularly shaped stone measuring about four feet four inches square and six inches thick, which was found to be covering ancient human remains in their place of sepulcher. Flagstones about four inches thick line the grave, which measures three feet nine inches by two feet by two feet. The stones are recognized as having been quarried locally. The grave was situated only about two feet six inches from the surface, and the deceased person had evidently been interred with legs drawn up. The stones have been replaced.

The fly is the Judas of animal creation, hated, loathed, destroyed, the very reason for its existence questioned by querulous mankind. Yet the fly, despised insect that it is, must serve a purpose, for nature makes few mistakes in her creation. That purpose is not hard to find. The fly is nature's agent to remove filth. Filth breeds the fly, so nature decrees it a sign, in order to provide for the removal of that filth. The fly, like the headache, is a result, not a cause. Where there are flies there is filth; remove the filth and the fly will cease to exist

NEW DONORA ROAD OPENED TO PUBLIC

Contrary to expectations, but much to the delight of the automobile and truck drivers, the cement road betweent Donora and Monongahela has been opened to the public. It was anticipated that the road would not be opened before the latter part of this week, but county officials and the contractor deemed that the surface hadreceived sufficient "setting," and the highway was opened on Labor Day. This is the first time in over two years that this road has been in a fit shape for travel and all during this time, with the exception of the winter months, traffic has had to be diverted over the ridge road a long detour. This has been done away with, and auto drivers are now enjoying the use of one of the best roads in this section of the state.

CLARKSVILLE COUPLE MARRIED IN CHARLEROI

At high noon Wednesday. in the pastor's study of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. occurred the marriage of Frank M. Strohman and Iva G. Hupp, both of Clarksville, Pa. The ring ceremony was used by the pastor, the Rev. Jno. R. Burson. The study was decorated with autumn leaves and growing plants. The bride was gowned in a white beaded georgette crepe and wore a corsage bouquet of carnations. The groom is an overseas veteran and is employed as a machinist by the Clarksville-Pitt Gas Coal company. The young couple returned home on the evening train and will make their future home in Clarksville.

The old German-American Alliance is no more, Congress having seen fit to take away its charter, but its successor. the German-American Citizen's League. is still a pro-Germany element in American politics

Doubtless Lenine would still like to grant hard terms to the Poles on condition that they become Bolshevists, but by this time he must realize that he spoke too soon.

VERDICT AGAINST CALIFORNIA MAN

William L. Moyer, of near California, was on Tuesday found guilty in the Uniontown courts of violating the automobile laws of the state. The plaintiff was M. J. Weller of Wharton township. Fayette county. Testimony showed that on Sunday morning, June 29. 1919. the Dodge car belonging to the defendant collided with the Ford car being driven by the plaintiff forcing him off the Pike just west of the Turkey's Nest, the car turning over on the retaining wall at that place. Mr. Moyer testified that he did not know that his car had struck the machine of the defendant and his attention was first called to the accident by his wife in the rear seat calling to him that a car was turning over on the embankment. The plaintiff argued that the defendant, while he stopped his car, and came back to the spot of the accident, did not render or offer to render assistance needed under the circumstances. He testified that he had charged the defendant at the time of crowding his car off the Pike and also advised the defendant that occupants of his car were injured. The jury was out but ten minutes.

LLOYDS WIN WAGER ON WEATHER CONDITIONS

For the second time in three months Lloyds of England won a bet that rain would not fall on race day in Uniontown. On June 19 the auto races were protected through a Uniontown agency to the extent of $30,000. while on Monday the policy was for $40,000. Had sufficient rain fallen on Monday between 8 a. m. and 3 p. m. to have caused a postponement of the races, the Uniontown Speedway Association would have received $40,000. Not a drop of rain fell during the afternoon until just at the close of the races. when a slight sprinkle of only a few minutes was evident.

Business Partners

The law safeguards and in some measure prescribes the relation between a bank and its client, just as it does between business partners.

But, as in a business partnership, if the relation is to be really worth while legal obligations must be supplemented---bank and client must work together.

You will find this institution a good business partner.

MORE SCHOOLS TAKE AGRICULTURAL COURSE

Teaching of agriculture has been started in six more high schools of Washington county, under the direction of J. M. Veazy, who was assigned to this county by the state department of public instruction. Supervisor Veazy visits each of the schools once every week and gives instruction himself.

Schools in which this progressive step has been taken are North Strabane, Peters, Morris and Hopewell townships, and Burgettstown and Claysville. Much interest is being shown, especially by the boys and girls from the rural sections, to whom the instruction will be particularly beneficial.

Washington county is the tenth in Pennsylvania to be selected for agricultural supervision by the state department of education. His expenses are borne by the department. Supervisor Veazy has his headquarters in the office of County Superintendent [illegible] Crumrine at Washington.

NO SIGNS ALONG STATE HIGHWAYS

Candidates and men in charge of campaigns were cautioned on Wednesday by State Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler against placing advertising cards on poles or within the limits of state highways. The notice applies to all kinds of cards, including those advertising fairs and gatherings and picnics. "It will be money thrown away to put up signs of any kind within limits of state highways. Highway department employes have orders to remove them," said Commissioner Sadler. "Our highways are freer of signs than they have been for years and we should try to keep them so."

The clean-up of the Bolshevists by the Poles seems to be pretty complete. The news that the great Red Army is now reduced to 30,000 fugitives indicates that the Poles went after them in regular American doughboy style.
